MR. R. J. LEVI has sold his farm of about 90 acres at Lair to E. J. and D. R. Johnston for $5,500.

THOS. J. SMITH, Sr., one of the wealthiest and best known citizens of Madison county, died at Richmond, Tuesday.

The sawmill of James Mitchell &amp; Co., at Upper Blue Licks, burned Wednesday morning. Loss about $8,000 with no insurance.

In a runaway accident Mrs. Ed Porter Thompson, her daughter Katie and two children were seriously injured near Frankfort.

We learn there will be a meeting of all Confederates in Kentucky held at Louisville sometime in October, the date to be announced soon.

VISIT the Manhattan Shoe Shining Parlors, opposite Varden's drug store. On week days the price of shines will be five cents and ten cents on Sunday.

DURING the afternoon exhibition of Robinson's circus at Cynthia Saturday one of the taller dancers was seized with convulsions and died about eleven o'clock that night.

G. W. HATCH, of Peoria, Ill., claims to have cured himself of rheumatism by fasting 21 days. This explains the fact why country newspaper editors never have rheumatism.

MR. BOOTH, manager of the G. G. White Co., Distillery has rented the Parnell property lately occupied by Mrs. Goff, and will move his family from Lawrenceburg next week.

THE difference between a coming out gown and going away gown is, the one goes away up close around the neck, while the girl comes out the top of the other as far as she can without creating a scandal.

CAPT. J. L. ABBOT, an old Confederate soldier, while coming down in an elevator in the Executive Building, at Frankfort, got his leg caught between the elevator and the floor, and it was cut off. The severed member was his cork leg.

THE Orphan Brigade will hold a reunion at Louisville September 19th and 20th. Capt. Ed. Spears, Henry Spears, Hiram M. Carpenter, John Mahone, W. H. Whaley, Simon Doty, Robert Ross and Lot Young are, we believe, the only surviving members now in this county.

THE following were elected at a meeting of Bourbon Lodge, No. 23, I. O. O. F., as representatives to the Odd Fellows' Grand Lodge that convenes in Lexington October 8: Joseph Williams, J. Will Thomas, Jr., Ed. D. Paton, George Faulkner, W. B. Nickels, A. L. Slicer.

DR. McCORMICK, of the Health Office, suggests that every county in the State ought to quarantine against cirruses for the reason that they are a medium of spreading small-pox and other diseases. There is not a boy within the confines of the State who will not unreservedly declare Dr. McCormick to be a meddling old granny.

C. H. HAMILTON, of Richmond, has brought suit against E. T. Graves, Claude Graves and Coley Lancaster, of Lexington, to recover $530 lost at faro. Hamilton lives at Richmond, and went to Lexington with $600 with the intention of going into business. He ran up against a faro game with the above result.

BISHOP HIBLER &amp; BRO. had a nice yearling calf shot twice last Sunday by some unknown parties while Mr. Hibler was in Mt Sterling. It is such actions as this by worthless and irresponsible persons that makes the farmer take full advantage of the State posting laws and deprives the true sportsman of the pleasure of shooting and hunting through their farms. It would be a pleasure to see a few of these parties arrested and severely dealt with.

There is a great complaint from the farmers in this community in regard to the trespassers who go about at will over their farms disregarding the laws of property and making themselves nuisances in many other ways. Orchards are robbed; the offenders not being content with picking fruit off the ground but ruthlessly denude the finest trees. Corn fields are nightly raided for roasting ears, and the raiders are not satisfied with enough for one time, often take sufficient to last a week. These depredations are a source of unending annoyance to the farmers, besides being an incalculable injury to their property.

A CARD.

EDITOR BOURBON NEWS.

There having been so many complaints made to me of the bad conduct by a set of young rowdies at the Grand on Wednesday night, I wish to say that in the future I intend to preserve order regardless of consequences. I give fair warning to everyone who thinks he can act the rowdy regardless of the feelings of others, that I will cause the arrest of the first one who attempts it in the future, and will continue to do so as long as the disorder continues. I have the assurance of the authorities that I will be upheld in this action. I am determined to protect the gentleman and lady patrons of the Grand, who pay their money to witness the performance and not to watch the silly antics of a lot of overgrown boys.

Respectfully,
R. S. PORTER,
Manager the Grand.

LOST.—At the L. & N. depot, a gold cuff button with monogram. Return to this office and receive reward.

The Spooners.

The Spooner Dramatic Company which is filling an engagement at the Grand this week is being well patronized and is giving good satisfaction. The presentation of the "Two Orphans" on Wednesday night was pronounced by those who saw it to be the equal of any company that has ever previously produced that play in Paris. Last night the bill was "The Romance of a Poor Young Man." The bills for the rest of the week are as follows: to-night "Pride of the Market;" Saturday matinee the ever popular "East Lynne," and Saturday night "A Lawyer's Wedding." The prices for the Saturday matinee will be ten cents for children and twenty cents for adults. The doors will open at 2 o'clock, performance beginning at 2:45 sharp.

COAL.—Try our South Jellico Blue Gem or mixed cannel, they are all good. Order your Winter coal now.

Yearlings Shipped.

The Kingston yearlings, property of Mrs. J. B. Ferguson, were shipped Wednesday afternoon, from Lexington, over the L. & N. to New York, where they will be sold next Tuesday. ## The Odeon Players.

Miss Mannheim, the director of the Dramatic Department of the College of Music, Cincinnati, will be seen at the Grand in this city on Friday evening, September 6th, assisted by the Odeon Players, in a grand double bill, namely "Nance Oldfield," her own adaptation of Chas. Reade's novel, and Henry Arthur Jones' charming comedy, "The Deacon." Mr. Jones is considered one of the foremost of American playwrights. He has been engaged by Mr. E. S. Willard to prepare another for the coming season. Mr. Willard has made a success of several of Mr. Jones' plays namely "The Middleman," and "Judah" and last season the critics admitted "The Deacon" the most charming comedy of Mr. Willard's repertoire. The Enquirer in speaking of the engagement in this city, speaks in the highest terms of Miss Mannheim and the Odeon Players.

Street Fair in Carlisle.

Stanley W. Keller, the junior editor of the Carlisle Mercury, has undertaken the arduous task of getting up a street fair in Carlisle. If there is a person in Carlisle who is equal to this task it is Brother Keller, for he is a hustler of the right sort. But he will find the job a hard one. A News man was a member of the Paris Carnival Committee last June, and has a head full of gray hairs as a result. However, we wish and predict for Mr. Keller a glorious success.

WEDNESDAY afternoon Police Lieutenant Wilkerson, of Lexington, brought to Paris a negro by the name of Walter Webb, who is wanted here on the charge of stealing corn.
